OUR STORY

A unique and intimate overwater restaurant providing you with progressive Japanese Cuisine. Uses only traditional ingredients and cooking methods to create original dishes that highlight culinary sophistication while staying true to its roots.

Our Japanese restaurant takes Japanese dining to a whole new level. Our skilled chefs use various cooking techniques such as fermentation, ageing, flavoured oil and smoke to add a different layered texture to the finished dish.

We believe in “Source Local, Cook Global”—our menu reflects that commitment. We serve fresh seafood from the ocean to your plate, using sustainable tuna and white flesh fish sourced directly from local fishermen.

Local fruits are also widely used in our menu. Watermelons are baked for 24 hours, which gives the fruit a meaty texture. The caramelised juices from the watermelon are reduced further and turned into a glaze that has an earthy, smokey flavour—and is naturally sweet. The same glaze used to glaze the watermelon also serves as a salad component.

Our menu also contains many vegan dishes, including our homemade mayonnaise made from tofu and grape seed oil. Vegan dishes such as papaya tataki and tomato carpaccio are among our most popular menu items.

Our chefs are passionate about experimenting with new ingredients and techniques, constantly coming up with innovative ways to surprise you.

CHEF'S TIPS

No dish can be considered perfect, as cooking is an inexact science and there is always room for improvement.

Recipes are only guidelines. The acidity and sweetness of ingredients, as well as other factors that affect the taste, always vary according to seasonality or where the food was grown.

For example, the acidity of lemon juice may vary depending on when it is harvested (temperature and humidity), how long ago it was picked, etc. So always trust your taste buds for the final touch.

We commit that our Food & Beverages venues are ISO 22000 certified, and internationally recognised as the highest food safety management system.

Should you have any specific dietary requirements or food preferences we will be more than happy to oblige. Simply speak to a member of the team for assistance creating your bespoke culinary experience.

Our dishes are freshly prepared in kitchens that handle gluten, seafood, nuts, eggs, and other food products. Should you have any specific allergies dietary requirements or concerns, we will be more than happy to assist.
